FORMER DIAMONDHEAD RESIDENT NOW A SUSPECTED SERIAL KILLER

BY GEOFF BELCHER
PUBLISHER

A Diamondhead man who was in a North Carolina jail awaiting trial for a 1992 murder has now been extradited to California, where he has been charged with the murders of three different women in 1977.

In March 2022, Warren Luther Alexander, then-71, was arrested at his home for the 1992 murder of 30-year-old Nona Stamey Cobb. Cobb had been strangled to death. Her body was found in July 1992 in Surry County, N.C., but the crime was never solved. Agents from the North Carolina State Bureau of Investigations and the Surry County, N.C., Sheriff's Office re-examined physical evidence in the case beginning in April 2021.

Warren Luther Alexander

Working with Identifiers International, LLC-founder Dr. Colleen Fitzpatrick, investigators were able to identify Alexander as a possible suspect using DNA, Surry County Sheriff Steve C. Hiatt said in a press release at the time.

After he was arrested in that case, authorities uploaded Alexander's DNA to a national law enforcement database.

According to reports, the Ventura County, Calif. Sheriff's Cold Case Unit began to re-examine the murders of Kimberly Carol Fritz, 18, on May 29, 1977; Velvet Ann Sanchez, 31, on Sept. 8, 1977; and Lorraine Ann Rodriguez, 21, on Dec. 27, 1977. Autopsies revealed that all

Amtrak service could resume on Coast by spring

BY GEOFF BELCHER
PUBLISHER

There's finally light at the end of the tunnel in the years-long effort to restore passenger rail service to the Mississippi Gulf Coast — the Mobile, Ala., City Council last week voted to approve a deal with Amtrak.

"I think the rail commission woke up the next morning with 'Yay, we can't believe this happened,' and then went 'Oh my God, we've got a lot of work to do,'" Southern Rail Commission (SRC) member and Bay St. Louis-resident Kay Kell said this week.

The passenger rail restoration project has been in the works since early 2016, when members of the SRC, Sen. Roger Wicker and then-Gov. Phil Bryant conducted an Amtrak tour from New Orleans to Jacksonville, Fla., stopping in Bay St. Louis

ECHO STAFF

A 53-year-old Kiln man was charged with second-degree murder on Monday for the death of a man he allegedly got into a bar fight with in June.

Hancock County Sheriff's deputies were dispatched to K&R's Bar on Hwy. 90 on June 9 for a "medical emergency," Hancock Criminal Investigations Division Cmdr. Kristopher Robbins said in a press release Monday.

"An investigation led to it being determined Robert Hammac and Stanley Garcia were involved in a fight inside the bar. Stanley Garcia was transported to a Louisiana hospital, where he later passed away," Robbins said. "Robert Hammac was transported to the Hancock County Adult Detention Center, where he is being held pending his initial appearance."

Garcia, 51, died on June 9 at the age of 51. A service was held in his honor at Lakeshore Community Center on June 30.

As of Monday, Hammac was being held without bond pending a hearing in Hancock County Justice Court.

Hancock Circuit Clerk Kendra Necaie swears in members of the Hancock County Tourism Commission Board of Directors.

With a new executive director and freshly-sworn-in board of directors, the Hancock County Tourism Commission and Hancock Tourism Bureau are looking at a bright, busy, future.

Under the long-time direction of former Executive Director Myrna Green, the Hancock County Tourism Bureau played a key role in helping market Bay St. Louis and Hancock County and promote local events, as well as helped local vendors and business owners promote themselves.

New Executive Director McKenzie Northington said that mission continues, but with a strong emphasis on grant writing and marketing.

“We’re your local boots on the ground to help promote your event or secure a grant for it,” Northington said. “A lot of our events are done in collaboration with others. We kind of work with everyone.”

Hancock Tourism Board President Rachel Knight said the board works hard to be a good “support system” for Northington’s efforts.

The latest iteration of the board was sworn in on July 18. It’s members include Knight, board president; David Hilbert, vice-president; Cami Cornfoot, secretary/treasurer; Alan Lagarde; Paul Harris; Melanie Hottard; Chuck Underwood; Melissa Saucier; and Bill Cotter.

Under Northington’s

direction, the bureau will continue to host “all of the evens we were doing before, but we’re expecting to do new things, as well,” she said. “I’m here to work with a lot of different people doing different events and helping them get grants to fund them.”

Upcoming events Hancock County Tourism is promoting include Wednesdays at the Depot; the Hancock County Fair (Sept. 11-14); Cruisin’ the Coast — with Tourism support in Bay

St. Louis, Waveland and Diamondhead; Boo in the Bay in October; Port Air Space Day in the Bay, Nov. 9; the Bay St. Louis Christmas Parade; and the annual Snowflakes in the Bay celebration.

There are also plans in the work to update the Depot building where Tourism is housed in order to better accommodate all the people who will come through once Amtrak resumes service between New Orleans and Mobile. A new gift shop is at the top of the list of improvements, Northington said.

“We’re also updating our website, www.playonthebay.org,” she said, “making it more user-friendly.”

One of the additions to the site will be sort of itinerary of places activities that visitors and locals alike can visit and enjoy.

For more information on the Hancock County Tourism Bureau, go to www.playonthebay.org or check it out on Facebook.

Supervisors hear update on Ochsner, MS Gulf Coast Division

BY CASSANDRA FAVRE
STAFF WRITER

Last week, the Hancock County Board of Supervisors heard an update on Ochsner Mississippi Gulf Coast from Jeff Edge, MHA, Chief Executive Officer, Ochsner, MS Gulf Coast Division.

Edge said Ochsner Medical Center has received a Leapfrog “A” safety grade since 2018.

The Leapfrog Hospital Safety Grade “uses up to 30 national performance measures from the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, the Leapfrog Hospital Surgery and information from other supplemental data sources,” he said.

“Over 3,000 hospitals across the nation are scored,” Edge said.

The scores are released twice a year, once in the spring and once in the fall, Edge said, and 17.9 percent of hospitals in Mississippi scored an “A” safety grade in spring 2024, down from 20 percent in fall 2023.

“We’re actually the only grade “A” hospital on the Mississippi Gulf Coast,” Edge said.

Ochsner Medical Center Hancock was also recently recognized by The American Heart Association and the American Stroke Association for using Get with the Guidelines - Stroke SILVER PLUS with Target: Type 2 Diabetes Honor Roll.

“This is a stroke plus award meaning we can really treat our stroke patients here at our local facility,” Edge said.

“We’re also a diabetic honor roll facility, so we treat our diabetic patients from a clinic standpoint or hospital standpoint.”

He added that this is the second year in a row the Hancock facility has received the award.

“The Joint Commission is an accrediting agency that comes into our hospital,” Edge said.

“We’re actually slated next year. Every three years, they come into your facility, if you receive any dollars from Medicare, Medicaid, you are required every three years to be inspected by an organization like this. About 15 years ago, they came out with something they called Leading the Way to Zero, to be a higher liability organization. They wanted to look at nuclear power plants, the airline industry, look at the safety that was around those institutions. Unfortunately, hospitals, you go back 10 to 15 years ago, you’d be happy if they got 90 percent, meaning 10 percent of your patients had negative outcomes that were due to your hospital facility.”

Edge said that Ochsner — Hancock is “the only hospital in the Ochsner system right now that is at a zero target zero.”

Edge also highlighted several physicians including Otolaryngologist Peter Casano, MD at Ochsner Health Center — Shephard Square in Diamondhead; general surgeon Brian Pitre, MD at Ochsner Health Center — Hancock; and gynecologist and surgeon Lynsey Cox, MD at Ochsner Medical Center — Hancock.

The Women’s Health Center recently opened in Bay St. Louis, Edge said, and is located inside the hospital.

“We have GYN services, we have GYN surgery, we have mammo, DEXA, and ultrasound,” said.

Edge said they are in the process of actively recruiting physicians — due to demand — for primary care; nurse practitioners, urologist, GI, and cardiologist.

For the second year in a row, Edge said, Ochsner Health was named one of America’s Greatest Workplaces for Diversity by Newsweek magazine. This year, for the first time, Newsweek named Ochsner Health as one of America’s Greatest Workplaces for Women.

Edge listed several capital projects, of which about 85 percent are complete.

$1.2 million patient monitor project

$600,000 new elevators

New ED triage area

Women’s Health Center

$400,000 new X-ray unit

$2.8 million new MRI

New ultrasound room with additional ultrasound unit

$40,000 new bone density DEXA unit

Updated gift shop, also known as the Bay Cantina

New security doors med surgeon and atrium canopy with glass doors

$100,000 Diamondhead Health Center paint and floor

Entire outside of hospital repainted

Updated lab/imaging waiting area therapy and wellness — added speech services (PT and rehab OP/IP)

New EVS and support services area

Enhanced cardiology testing area (additional Echo unit $160,000 and stress testing)

$165,000 new instrument washer surgery

Edge ended with a discussion of the financial health of Ochsner MS Gulf Coast.

“We improved from 2021 to 2022 $3.2 million,” he said. “As of last year, we made an additional improvement of $7.7 million in the year of 2023. As of year-to-date, we’re an additional $4.3 million better. We met or exceeded budget every month this year for Ochsner.”

Edge also added that “we have the highest number of inpatient discharges on record in the month of January and the month of April.”

The next board meeting is scheduled for Aug. 19 at 9 a.m.

A Decade

It’s hard to believe that this weekend our family will be celebrating a whole DECADE of the nephew. It seems like only yesterday, I was anxiously awaiting a phone call with news of his birth.

I still remember jumping up and down with excitement and tears of joy streaming down my face when I heard the news and saw his sweet, sweet face for the first time in a picture.

I mean, by now, most of my column’s regular readers — including those who read my column at the Picayune Item where I was working when he was born — probably know that being an aunt is one of the greatest joys in my life.

I shall interrupt this joyful praise of the nephew to thank my sister and brother-in-law for bringing this gift into the world. Actually, my sister did the majority of the work, what with nine months of pregnancy and then delivery.

Now, back to regularly-scheduled praise of the nephew.

While I do miss the days spent carrying him around on my hip or on my back, and his attachment to the Cass Cass Mickey (no, I still haven’t gotten over the end of that era) and just him being a toddler in general, I’m excited to witness the bright and intelligent human he is becoming.

He is super excited about hitting “double digits” as well. He has always wanted to be more grown up, no matter how many times we tell him to stop wishing that youth away. Because, sooner than he thinks, he will join the ranks of all the other adults making their way through the drudgery.

He also started the fifth grade this week and told me that he likes it, during our talk after his first day.

For him, being a Coast Guard kid, he has had to start over with schools, friends, and locations more than once and he handles it all so well.

But, with that comes so many more life experiences that can’t be taught in a school or just by living in one place. He’s experienced more places and things in his one decade than I have in my four.

His interests have also changed so much over the years. Now, he talks incessantly about Minecraft (of which I know hardly anything), the “Star Wars” franchise of movies and shows, whatever new book he might be reading and what new video game he is playing on his Nintendo Switch.

But, he is still a loving and thoughtful child.

During our nephew and Cass Cass days, he often wonders how his Paw Paw is doing at home with-

Hancock History: Vietnam U.S. Air Force

This article presents the experience of another Hancock County veteran of the Vietnam War, Al Sarrat, who served in the US Air Force. The anecdotes that have been presented in this series of articles about the Vietnam War demonstrate the character of modern warfare that necessitates occasionally marshalling military assets to wage war on land, sea, and air. It will become evident to the reader that the United States of America is the only nation in the world that can project power, if necessary, to any region of the globe. Since World War II America has maintained the freedom of the seas worldwide and created what is called the American Order which has fostered a robust world economy.

Allan “Al” J. Sarrat, Jr. was born in New Orleans, LA. In 1948. His father, Allan Sr. (1924-2002), relocated the family to Bay St. Louis, MS in 1962. His father was a sales manager, and his mother, Marilyn LeBoeuf (1925-2010), was a homemaker. Al attended St. Stanislaus College where he was a class officer for four years and a member of the student council. He graduated in 1966 and the attended the University of Southern Mississippi graduating in 1970. He met his future wife, Margaret McDowell, on a double date in high school, and they started dating after Al graduated. Margaret was a member of the last graduating class of St. Joseph Academy in 1967. Her father, Ernest (Mac) MacDowell (1924-2010), was a salesman, and her mother, Denise De Jean MacDowell, was a registered nurse at Hancock General Hospital. Margaret and Al were married at Our Lady of the Gulf Church in Bay St. Louis on August 16, 1969, the day before Hurricane Camille devastated the Mississippi Gulf Coast. After a one-night honeymoon to New Orleans and anticipating the storm, they returned and spent the next ten days of married life in Bay St. Louis with no electricity or running water but fresh tennis shorts. The young couple then spent Al’s senior year in Hattiesburg a USM.

Shortly before graduation Al realized he was a prime candidate for the draft and needed to make plans for the military. He had previously taken the Air Force Officer Qualification Test and was eligible to apply for pilot training. He was accepted and left for officer training in January 1971. Margaret stayed behind in Bay St. Louis, and their first child, a daughter, Stacy, was born the next month while Al was in San Antonio. Upon OTS graduation in April 1971, he left for Pilot Training at

Conservation Corner: National Water Quality Month

The history of National Water Quality Month originated when two US congressional acts that were passed in the early 1970s in an effort to protect our water sources. Starting with the Clean Water Act that was passed in 1972, the federal government began taking steps to curb water pollution by making it illegal to dump high amounts of toxic materials into bodies of water. This set the standard for making sure that surface water was up to certain standards before being used for human consumption and recreation. In 1974, the Safe Drinking Water Act was passed to further protect the quality of groundwater. From there, National Water Quality Month was founded in 2005 by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and backed by the United Nations to promote civic discourse about how to conserve our natural water sources by starting conversations on what we can do in our own households and communities to ensure that we all have access to safe, clean drinking water for generations to come. What’s better than water?

The purpose of National Water Quality Month is to remind us what life would be like without easy access to clean water. There would be no fountains to quench your thirst when you’re out on a hot day. No more pools, and no more lakes and rivers clean enough for recreational activities. No more hour-long showers. No more drinking water straight from the tap, or even filtering it through your Brita. No more running water in your house, period. In short, our lives would be totally different, and not for the better.

National Water quality month reminds us to take a moment to consider how important these water sources are not just to humans, but also to the other inhabitants of these ecosystems—whether it be the fish that live in the waters or the plants and animals that rely on these lakes and rivers for water just like we do. By thinking about the little things that you do on a daily basis that could have a negative effect on water quality, you’ll be one step closer to making a difference. There are easily thousands of factors that can have a negative impact on the quality of your local water sources ranging from industrial pollutants like metal particulate, oils, and other chemicals to the pesticides we use in our own backyards.

Under state law, Reso said, the council has 10 business days from the date of the vacancy to set a special election, and the election date must not be less than 30 days or more than 45 days from the date of the vacancy.

The council set the special election for Ward 5 council for Sept. 17. If a runoff election is needed, it will be held on Oct. 8.

In order to qualify, a candidate must file with the Bay St. Louis municipal clerk by 5 p.m. at least 20 days before the date of the election. If 19 days before the date of the election, only one person has qualified, the city may dispense with the election and appoint that candidate. If no one qualifies, the city can appoint someone..

and other points on the Gulf Coast along the way, including Gulfport, Biloxi and Pascagoula. The city of Mobile was the last hold-out in the deal.

Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama have all now committed $3.084 million each to subsidize the service for three years, and those funds will be matched with $10 million in federal funds. Amtrak has also agreed to commit $72 million in rail upgrades from the Consolidated Rail Infrastructure Safety Initiative fund. Kell said Amtrak has not yet established exactly when the service will begin, but said multiple agencies are working to make it happen as quickly as possible.

“We’re saying some time in the spring, but we’re just like everybody else,” Kell said, “we’d like to see it happen before Mardi Gras and the Super Bowl in New Orleans (next February). In a couple of weeks, we’ll know a little more. Mobile’s got to build a platform, and we’ll see how that goes.

“We’re working as hard as we can to get it done, but there are so many things that have to happen before the train can. ... We’ve got to start marketing the train, because if people don’t ride it, it’s going to go away. Secondly, we have to get our (Bay St. Louis) Depot ready.”

The city of Bay St. Louis last year completed a multi-million dollar transformation of the Depot grounds and a refurbished train platform, but is still doing work on the Depot building itself.

“We also need to think about what kind of services might we want (at the Depot),” Kell said. “We’re looking at maybe golf cart taxis or something like that. We need to talk to the merchants in the area. ... We’re going to involve the Coastal Mississippi and Visit Mobile folks, and of course, the New Orleans tourism people. It’s a regional issue.”

Once the service gets started, two trains will leave Mobile each day headed to New Orleans, and two trains will leave New Orleans each day, headed toward Mobile. There will be brief stops at all of the locations along the way, and travelers can get off at any station.

Hancock County officials have long said the service would be a huge tourism boon for the area.

Amtrak officials said train schedules and fairs will be posted at www.amtrak.com about 90 days before the service begins.

nephew. I hope that one day he looks back on them and at least likes them.

For now, I know that he does like being “famous,” as he calls it. He loves when I tell him that someone called or stopped me to tell me how much they love my columns about the nephew.

returned to Bay St. Louis and stayed with family during the deployment. Al participated in aerial refueling of numerous aircraft including fighter jets, reconnaissance, cargo/transport aircraft, and bombers.

A typical mission could deploy any time of the day or night and would generally range from four to eight hours. Al would usually refuel B-52 Bombers and F-4 Fighter Jets over the Gulf of Tonkin at night to avoid enemy surveillance since both planes are vulnerable during this maneuver. When moving aircraft across the Pacific Ocean longer missions are required. In addition to air refueling, the KC 135 was also used for the movement of personnel and cargo throughout the theater. On one mission, Al’s crew was tasked to move time sensitive data from Okinawa to Alaska. Upon landing in Alaska another KC-135 was waiting with engines running to complete moving the data to the Pentagon and the to the White House where the President would review it.

Al Sarrat retired from the Air Force after twenty-eight years of service as a Full-Bird Colonel.

He was raised in Waveland, Mississippi and attended St. Rose de Lima Catholic School in Bay St. Louis, Mississippi. After graduating in 1963 he enlisted in the U.S. Marine Corps and proudly served seven years.

In August 1970, he received an Honorable Discharge. Upon his discharge, he decided to move to California where he lived for the next 35 years. He was employed as a painter foreman for 25 years at Long Beach Naval Shipyard in Long Beach, California.

After retirement, he moved back to Waveland, Mississippi in 2001. He reunited with the family church, St. Rose de Lima. He became an active member

• CHRISTOPHER COLCLOUGH LAGARDE

Christopher Colclough Lagarde

Christopher Colclough Lagarde died peacefully on Thursday, August 1, 2024, with family at his bedside. His death came after a complicated and heroic 7-month battle with illness including major surgeries, kidney failure, and heart complications. In the days leading up to his death, he was alert and engaged in conversations ranging from why there are more hermit crabs on Cat Island than in the Bay to what he was having for dinner. Such a good summary of Chris: engaged, curious, and wondering what his next meal would be.

Born on May 25, 1953, Chris was the fourth child of the late Frank and Marilee Lagarde. He is survived by his eight siblings and their spouses Frank (Suzanne), Mary (Pat), Jules (Roxanne), Melissa, Kevin (Diane), Andrew (Deborah), Alan (Haven), Lis (Lee), 27 nieces and nephews, 38 great nieces and great nephews, and about 40 first cousins and their families. Also part of his story is his former wife Vicki Ward and her children Levi and Jenna, with whom he remained in touch. Not to be forgotten is his beloved dog Jack, who he adopted after his friend Trish died, and is now with his sister Mary. He is also survived by a large community of friends he loved like family.

Waiting to meet him, along with his parents, are his sister-in-law Lisa Lagarde, and nephew John Lagarde.

Chris was born in New Orleans, Louisiana, and raised in Bay St. Louis, Mississippi where he gladly spent much of his adult life. He graduated high school from Saint Stanislaus in 1971, and from Mississippi State University with a master's degree in Fisheries Management in 1977.

Growing up he was active in Boy Scouts and within his parish, Our Lady of the Gulf, where he served as an altar boy and was a member of CYO. He once showed up to church barefoot, in his swimsuit, with a fish hook embedded in his palm, looking for his mother for help. He taught swimming lessons, and was on the local swim team. His most treasured activity was to be on the shores or in the marshes of the Mississippi Sound which would later inform his life's work and his identity on the Gulf Coast. Floundering, crabbing, softshelling, and scouring the beach for trash and fossils remained his favorite activities until the day of his death.

As the fourth of nine children, self-reliance and hard work were ingrained in him from the beginning. Not one to turn down work, in high school Chris had several jobs including delivering for Southern Frosted Foods, lifeguarding (he once kicked Brett Favre out of the Diamondhead pool), and in early college as a rodbuster, laying rebar in the construction of Interstate 10 with his brother Jules.

While attending Mississippi State, he worked in their catfish ponds doing research, where it wasn't uncommon for him to invite siblings Kevin and Melissa and other college friends over for a fish fry. After graduating he worked at the Lyman Fish Hatchery and at the Gulf Coast Research Lab in Ocean Springs in the 1980s.

In March 1991 he started working for newly elected Congressman Gene Taylor as special assistant for fisheries and natural resources, a position he held with pride for 20 years. Chris worked tirelessly at that office, handling everything from answering phone calls (his least favorite) to tackling any environmental marine issues, especially after Hurricane Katrina. In 2007 Congressman Taylor spoke to the House of Representatives and shared a note sent from volunteers from Illinois who'd spent time with Chris. The note read: "We are eternally grateful to you for sharing one of Mississippi's finest natural resources, Chris Lagarde. Since we first met Chris a year ago, we've come to know him as a dear friend, a counselor, a leader, a chef, a mentor and a pack rat. He is a great big energizer bunny in a bright orange jumpsuit, not only because he never stops, but because his presence energizes all of us. Chris is a man of compassion and passion. He is caring, loving, generous, and the most humble man you'd ever meet. He's an excellent chef and host. Through all of the trials and tribulations of finding work for our 60 volunteers all week and feeding us twice this week, he always kept his composure, his sense of humor and his love for all of us. ... He lends perspective to what is really important in all of our lives, ... our friends, family and fellow human beings. Chris is the epitome of the face of Christ, of service, of love for his fellow man."

Outside of his job and after retirement, Chris had many meaningful roles around town--volunteering as the weighmaster at local fishing rodeos, running crab races at OLG's Crab Fest, visiting his sister Lis' students and the folks at Dunbar Village dressed as Santa Claus, picking up trash, recycling, spearheading beach cleanups, and leading walks through the marsh. It wasn't uncommon for him to be boarding up windows in preparation for a hurricane or sharing a sack of oysters someone gave him, or a pot of beans he cooked himself (eight pounds at a time, because that's how big his pot was). Mardi Gras was as important to him as Halloween. MOMS ball was a favorite, and where he first met The Radiators. For years at Nereids he'd draw as much attention as the parade floats themselves with his big 1947 Chevrolet Thriftmaster truck blaring The Radiators playing, dressed in costume, feeding crowds.

He never missed the chance to explain the science behind whatever activity he was involved in. Teaching about all the life forms in the mud in the marshes, the role of the tiniest of fish in the ocean and the health of the Bay was as natural to him as breathing.

Sometimes his passion for the natural world posed a challenge. More than once the city of Bay St. Louis had issues with his wild and abundant property full of magnolias, live and water oaks, tall grass, wildflowers, native bushes, Carolina wrens, barred owls and Mississippi kites. He never denied that his property and sometimes himself were a mess. His truck was always overflowing with crab traps, tools, buckets and rubber boots. But chances are if you needed something, he had it, and he'd loan or give it to you, and make sure you knew how to use it. That was his disposition, honest to a fault, generous, straight-shooting and magnetic.

Since his passing, his family has been touched by the interactions people have shared with them. "He taught me how to use a kitchen knife. How to walk through the woods and not come back with poison ivy. How to put out a fire. The environmental contribution of fat sleepers and many other uncommon species. He taught me that the best part of any party was behind the scenes," wrote a family friend. Nieces and nephews have had no trouble recalling core memories like shooting at dump trucks, being provided oven mitts and goggles before fireworks lessons, making fish prints, or having his loud overflowing pickup truck pull up around the corner instructing teenagers to go home.

Even as his eyesight failed, and his health began to decline, he remained a strong presence around town and connected to his friends and family. He still loved to cook, and was quick to feed a crowd, and share leftovers with anyone there. He could be found accompanying great nieces to get snowballs, listening to live music and as recently as November, cooking for family from out of town and their visiting friends at his sister's house, where he loved to hang out. He was grumpy, but he still enjoyed the time spent with family and friends.

And now his legacy will live on, in Sunday night dinners at Lis and Lee's, in blackened shrimp sandwiches, during Mardi Gras, on his wild properties and in the marsh.

Visitation will be held at Our Lady of the Catholic Church on Saturday, August 31, 2024 from 10:30 a.m. until 12:00 noon with a Mass of Christian Burial at 12:00 noon followed by a Celebration of Life at Lis and Lee's home. Please feel free to dress casually, as he would have wanted. Shrimp boots, overalls, ratty tees and Hawaiian shirts are welcome. In lieu of flowers, donations are encouraged to the Wildlife Rehabilitation Outpost of Hancock County, 8013 Lakeshore Road, Bay St Louis MS 39520, and on their facebook page.

Edmond Fahey Funeral Home is honored to serve the family of Christopher Colclough Lagarde.

Spiritual Life

C. Gerald Richardson, D. MIN.

Spiritual tradition and practice have been part of the human experience for about as long as history as been recorded. It has usually been referred to as “religion”. This tradition has often been harsh, and at times, even cruel. Many acts of brutality and violence have been committed in the name of religion. It is also true that much that is good, wholesome, and beneficial has taken place in that same name. Human response to religion is often measured by individual experience with respect to the ways in which religion has been employed. Sometimes religions have attempted to define, or even authenticate, that response.

Spirituality is internal. Individuals often find that their personal spiritual life is defined, not by cathedrals, liturgy, organizations, or rules. Rather, the spiritual journey flows from a deep well of human awareness and experience. If it is honestly and seriously contemplated, and if it is practiced with integrity, it can provide a powerful depth of meaning, and it can lead to a well-lived life.

The truth is that both spirituality and religion are necessary. They are not always the same. They can compliment and inform each other, but they can also, at times, divert from each other. Religion holds the possibility of guiding and uplifting the spiritual life. Spirituality may, in turn, enrich the religious experience. It can serve as a correction to the organizational excesses into which religion may sometimes fall.

Personally, I have been a participant in religion for as long as I can remember. Congregational life has always been an important part of the life that I have known. It has provided a structure, a context, and a manner of living that has been vital to my lived experience. That remains true to this day. Loving the church is as much a part of my life as anything that I know. Even when I have been disappointed by it, challenged by it, or found myself in doubt, it has continued to hold a place of power and influence in my life.

It is also true that a deep sense of personal spirituality has begun to grow over the years. This part of my experience is beyond, and in some ways, deeper than a relationship with the church. It has allowed me to recognize that the institutional church is an organization which is of human creation. It may very well have been guided by spiritual reflection, but it is essentially temporal.

Spiritual life is experienced deeply within us. It requires introspection, intentional effort, and a recognition of something which is beyond the usual experience of life. Discernment and seeking an authentic response to that which is beyond our human understanding is essential to a well-lived life.

I am thankful for the church, and it is my intention to always be a part of it. I am also thankful for that spirit which resides deep within the human soul which guides, challenges, encourages, and offers hope in the face of a confusing world.

PET
OF THE WEEK

MEET KYRO.
This dude is a stunningly handsome fella, but what makes him such an exemplary dog are his personality and gentlemanly manners. This 6 to 8 year old American Pit Bull Terrier mix is great with other friendly dogs, and adores people. He is very responsive to direction and has mastered basic commands, such as sit, down, and stay. He’s a real smart cookie! Kyro appears to be house and crate trained, as he keeps his kennel clean, and potties immediately upon going outdoors. This sweet boy would be a wonderful addition to any family, large or small. He is medium-size, (45 pounds), and very calm natured. He is happiest when in the company of people, sharing affection and quality time. Please stop by and meet Kyro and see what a fine pup he is. He is the best boy! He has so much loyalty, companionship and love to offer his true forever family. Please give him a chance! If you would like to get to know Kyro, our visiting hours are Mon, Wed-Fri 10am-3:30pm, or you may call our front desk at 228-466-4516 to schedule an appointment. Please bring your children and dog(s) along for the visit to ensure compatibility.

This year the focus is to return and have a different outcome. The Lady Hawks return seniors Cambria Necaise, Lila Turner, and Carleigh De-deaux along with newcomers to the starting rotation in Madison Reso, Laney Necaise, Lakyn Ladner, Blythe Marti-

OUR LADY ACADEMY CRESCENTS

The Crescents claimed their 16th state championship in program history last year defeating Alcorn Central. The Crescents are hungry for more in 2024.

OLA returns Ava Davis, Julia Hoffman, Kinsley Jean Stegall, Myah Favre, Loralai Williford, Kaylin Kinniburgh, And Taylor Henley from a year ago.

OLA head coach Emily Corley commented, “My hope is that we are able produce hard work and discipline in practice and carry that into each game. This team wants to continue to the established Volleyball tradition at OLA and they are working hard towards that goal.”

The Crescents advanced to the finals of the MH-SAA tournament in Jackson with a 6-1 record and beat Vancleave and Hancock last week.

BAY HIGH LADY TIGERS

The Lady Tigers return a solid core of players including Mackenzie Graham, Nadia Lewis, Emmalee Coote, Devin Bourgeois, Lakeitha Sampson, Jacquelyne Lassiter, Trinity Harmon, and Judah Cochran that all saw the court for Bay High last year.

Bay High head coach Logan Lockard commented, “We had a very good summer on the court training. We found some consistency in

She stated, “We are a defensive team first so we have had to really work on an offensive mindset. I think the girls have done a solid job with that over the summer. We are ready to get the season started.”

The Lady Tigers competed in the MHSAA kickoff tournament where they 1-4 against some top competition and beat Lanier. Last week, the Lady Tigers topped Biloxi and Pearl River Central before falling to Vancleave.

Hancock head coach Greg Dillard stated, “We are a little younger than we wanted to be but we knew it was coming at some point. The girls have been working extremely hard at creating opportunities and a rotation. We competed at the MHSAA tournament and Madison Reso had a solid tournament serving 50-of-51 times with 16 aces. We are building on the performances there to get ready for the season. We feel like we have some unfinished business with the state tournament this year.”

The Lady Hawks went 3-2 in Jackson and dropped a game with OLA last week.
